

Is the Black at the End Good?

Flaming Lips

The sun is right behind us
Though it's cold and dark ahead
That's just me being optimistic
I know, I know

Suffering defeat us
My spirit tries and tries
But it's hard
I know, I know, I know

Pain is this burdening power
It punishes the soul
It's stars all around us
I know, I know

Everything changes
Everything does, I know
I know, I know, I know, I know

So you see
How many live without it
Cause everywhere the love is
That's where I will be

So you see
How many live without it
Cause everywhere the love is
That's where I will be

Cause everywhere that love is
That's where I will be

The sun is right behind us
Though it's cold and dark ahead
But that's just me being optimistic
I know, I know

So you see
How many live without it
Cause everywhere the love is
That's where I will be

So you see
How many live without it
Cause everywhere the love is
That's where I will be

So you see
How many live without it
Cause everywhere the love is
That's where I will be

So you see
How many live without it
Cause everywhere the love is
That's where I will be
