

Get Up Again

Flaw

Here we go again

A very temperamental process, beginning with all of our excess Affecting our very own ingest, this side of you is speechless
Overwhelmed with an abscess, creating new diseases And infecting whomever it pleases, we've been living this way for too long, too long

Then I noticed a difference, in the way that I saw other insects
Who were living a life of indulgence, sheltered by their parents Such an unlucky existence, not given a chance to experience
And make their own decisions, I wouldn't trade my own mistakes at all

Reach out your hands
Out for the ones who, aid when the going gets rough Until the end.
These are the ones who, help when the times get tough
And times will get tough.
Get up again.
Times will get tough.
Get up again

Here it comes once again
