

Conquer Me

Flesh Field

I showed them all of the ways to forget me
I made them cover up their eyes as they came to take me

They're waiting to condemn me
Unburdened by original sin
I do this consciously
Because I'll die for what I believe in

Someone to never fall short when I'm in need
Someone to hold me so close and never look back

Right now this hole is empty
Your words mean nothing to me
False hopes
Of this I'm guilty
I need you to conquer me

I spin back to reality and to what I should do
Is someone really listening?
I have something to prove
