

Heretic

Flesh Field

Innocence was lost in your embrace
All I knew, forgotten
My disgrace

I hold on to nothing
I am without guilt
I take all you have
I take all you've built
I feel the desire to fade away inside
I feel the need to run away and hide
I need the pain to get me through the night
I need to face my fears, to turn and fight

Fallen from the sky
You never cared about me
Fallen from the sky
I can't believe I couldn't see
Your love is a lie
In the dark I scream your name
Fallen from the sky
But I'm the only one left to blame

I am reborn with flesh of solid steel
I am reborn with the need to heal
I was in love with something inside
I was above everything I tried
