

Telling All The World

Flickerstick

Conversations bleak
Ripping me through your heart
While you disagree
You focus on the ones
You lay beside and watch them come undone
I can never let you get away

Cause I'm telling all of the world
I'm gonna make it on my own
Telling all of the world
I'm gonna make it on my own

Cause you can try, oh you try to figure out
Those places you've been before
You know they always get to you when you're in doubt You're trying to change the world but all you find is yourself left out and bleeding in the streets where there's no one left to Accept what you can do, see
I can never let you get away

Cause I'm telling all of the world
I'm gonna make it on my own
Telling all of the world
I'm gonna make it on my own

And you try so hard just incase
But you always let you down
But it's so behind those things you say
Say it's just a game
Don't you know I'm telling all of the world
That I'm going to make it on my own

Cause it's all that you are
All that you were
To everyone, to everything
Don't you agree
I'm down on my knees
Everywhere you disagree

Telling all of the world
I'm gonna make it on my own
Telling all of the world
I'm gonna make it on my own

You gotta say
And it's just gonna be me
Cause I gotta get it right
And it's gonna be just one more time
Cause i'm tellin all the world that it's gonna be
It's right it's right
Cause it's got to be
And you know i'm gonna sell it all
And you're gonna come along with me
Cause i'm tellin all the world
Telling all the world
Don't you gonna get it one more day
And it's gonna just be

Oh it's me
