

The Story So Far

Flogging Molly

You always had what you wanted
So leave it behind
And if the glass isn't broken
Then the future's not blind
All that you know means nothing to you
But it's the loss of control that shatters the truth

Here's the story so far
It's already here
We've made it this far
Through the daggered-edged spears
But life cuts to pieces
Till the wounds hold no secrets
Makes it all who you are

Love craves self destruction
It's a blizzard in hand
You lay your cards on the table
But you're not in command
So burn with the fire
You so eagerly lit
Watch the flames flicker higher
Said I don't care about me

Here's the story so far
It's already here
We've made it this far
Through the daggered-edged spears
But life cuts to pieces
Till the wounds hold no secrets
Makes it all who you are

Though it's bitter the pill
That you swallow to feel
I don't care what I lost
I just thank god I'm alive

Makes it all who you are
Makes it all who you are
Makes it all who you are
Makes it all who you are
Makes it all who you are

That's the story so far
