

Losing All Balance In Fells Point

Flood Of Red

I'm so scared of everything,
Oh I don't care about anything anymore.

I'm so scared of everything,
Oh I can't deal with many things around.
It's time that I keep moving on,
So I think I'll leave this place behind.

If I don't stay, if I run so far away,
Oh would it make you see the reason I left home.
If I don't stay, if I run so far away,
Oh would it make you feel empty and alone?

I'm so scared of everything,
Oh I would really give anything to be found.

I'm all alone, no-emotion,
Still afraid taking in the ocean air,
Thinking about the things that matter.
I can fix this before they shatter for me,
I'm leaving it all behind.

If I don't stay, if I run so far away,
Oh would it make you see the reason I left home.
If I don't stay, if I run so far away,
Oh would it make you feel empty and alone?

It all feels so wrong and I feel lost here,
I've tried to be strong and it never feels right.
It all feels so wrong and I feel lost here,
I've tried to be strong and it never feels right.
(The truth I need to face feels like a cancer,
You never seem to smile when I'm around)

If I don't stay, if I run so far away,
Oh would it make you see the reason I left home.
If I don't stay, if I run so far away,
Oh would it make you feel empty and alone?
