

From The Outside

Floorpunch

You said you're all right
But you are losing touch
I'm watching you fall
And it hurts me so much
Everyday it's another excuse
I won't sit and watch you abuse
You said never again, lied to all your friends
Now our trust is gone, where did we go wrong
From the outside I was looking in
And didn't know where to start
I couldn't see what was going on
While you were losing all your heart
