

Third Eye

Florence + the Machine

An original lifeline,
original lifeline,
An original lifeline,
original lifeline.

Don't make a shadow of yourself,
always shutting out the light.
Caught in your own creation.
Look up, look up!
It tore you open
And oh, how much!

'Cause there's a hole where your heart lies
and I can see it with my third eye.
And oh my touch, it magnifies
You pull away, you don't know why.

An original lifeline,
original lifeline,
An original lifeline,
original lifeline.

Hey, look up!
You don't have to be a ghost,
here amongst the living.
You are flesh and blood!
And you deserve to be loved and you deserve what you are given.
And oh, how much!

'Cause there's a hole where your heart lies
and I can see it with my third eye.
And oh my touch, it magnifies
You pull away, you don't know why.

An original lifeline,
original lifeline,
An original lifeline,
original lifeline.

'Cause there's a hole where your heart lies
and I can see it with my third eye.
And oh my touch, it magnifies
You pull away, you don't know why.

An original lifeline,
original lifeline,
An original lifeline,
original lifeline.

Could you pay it as a tribute?
The only thing you let hold you
Wear it now on the mantle
Always there to remind you

Would you pay it as a tribute?
The only thing you let hold you
Wear it now on the mantle

Always there to remind you

I'm the same, I'm the same
I'm trying to change.
I'm the same, I'm the same
I'm trying to change.
I'm the same, I'm the same
I'm trying to change!

'Cause there's a hole where your heart lies
and I can see it with my third eye.
And oh my touch, it magnifies
You pull away, you don't know why.

An original lifeline,
original lifeline,
An original lifeline,
original lifeline.

I'm the same, I'm the same
I'm trying to change.
I'm the same, I'm the same
I'm trying to change.
I'm the same, I'm the same
I'm trying to change -
Original lifeline...
