

Deny Everything

Fluffy

See her sitting on the tube, her lips about to speak.
She wants to tell him everything, she feels so guilty and so cheap.

But don't you ever tell, he'll make your life a sick hell,
But don't you ever tell you may burst and you may swell but,
Deny everything, never confess,
Deny everything, truth never should undress.

They go walking in the park, accusations move the trees,
Her secret so wants to depart, begging you please tell him please.

But don't you ever tell, he'll make your life a sick hell,
But don't you ever tell you may burst and you may swell but,
Deny everything, never confess, deny everything
Truth never should undress.

But don't you ever tell, he'll make your life a sick hell,
But don't you ever tell you may burst and you may swell but,
Deny everything, never confess, deny everything
Truth never should undress.

Deny everything, everything, everything, everything.
