

Daydreamer

Flux Pavilion

And we're all daydreaming now
Escape to another world
Live for another day
Escape to another world

And we're all daydreaming now
Escape to another world
Live for another day
And we're all daydreaming now

We spend our life in the rain
Every day feels the same
When I awake in the morning no, no
We feel like our work is done
And sit and wait for the sun
But it's hurtin our eyes

We spend our life in the rain
Every day feels the same
When I awake in the morning no, no
We feel like our work is done
And sit and wait for the sun, so young

And we're all daydreaming now
Escape to another world
Live for another day
Escape to another world

And we're all daydreaming now
Escape to another world
Live for another day

We feel like our work is done
And sit and wait for the sun, so young
And we're all daydreaming now

Don't have to be told
Don't have to grow old
Don't have to be told
Don't have to grow old
Don't have to be told
Don't have to grow old
Don't have to be told
Don't have to grow old

And we're all daydreaming now

Don't have to be told
Don't have to grow old
Don't have to be told
Don't have to grow old

And we're all daydreaming now

Don't have to be told
Don't have to grow old
Don't have to be told

Don't have to grow old

And we're all daydreaming now

Don't have to be told (Escape to another world)

Don't have to grow old (Live for another day)

Don't have to be told (Escape to another world)

Don't have to grow old (Live for another day)

Don't have to be told (Escape to another world)

Don't have to grow old (Live for another day)

Don't have to be told (Escape to another world)

Don't have to grow old (Live for another day)

And we're all daydreaming now
