

Condition Of My Heart

Fly to the Sky

From when the seperating you told me you wanted, much time has gone by that day when you came around asking, i told you i was okay over the phone erasing memories is so hard

How i cried, that night you left me the world with you, i don't have it, but i want it like this it's left, the parting, collapsing, please don't throw me away freeing me...
You underestimate the condition of my heart.

When you were everything in my life, i could give you all the love {until eternity} i thought you'd come to my side until eternity but now that can't happen, you know that leaving me all alone...

How i cried, that night you left me
the world with you, i don't have it, but i want it
like this it's left, the parting, collapsing,
please don't throw me away
freeing me...
You underestimate the condition of my heart.

All the things you wanted to tell me, opening up that moment in front of me the seperation was predictable (i don't wanna cry again) even if changed my mind, the thing you forgot, its already too late, the day that already past, getting farther away even if you wanted me

When i cried, that night you left me
the world with you, i don't have it, but i want it
like this it's left, the parting, collapsing,
please don't throw me away
freeing me...
You underestimate the condition of my heart.
