Flags can't get stars right.
Cause they take them down at night

A wink is half of a blink, A wink is half of a blink.

We sing and drink to the stink of kings,

Our keys clink in the sink with our rings, We sneeze out a swarm of bees, We thieves with leaves in our sleeves.