

No One To Blame

For the Fallen Dreams

Don't blame this on me
I'm right where you wanna be
All these dreams are slowing fading with every single choice yo u're making
Gotta get out
I've gotta get out if what you say is always untrue
Forever living in denial of me running back to you Won't forget this time for all the hell you've put me through Forever living a lie, and it's coming back to haunt you

Don't blame this on me
I'm right where you wanna be
All these dreams are slowing fading with every single choice yo u're making
Is it lust, or is it love between your sheets; still not enough
Whichever way you go, I don't wanna know
You've never been so low, and it really shows

For always, and ever, you'll live with endeavors
You've seemed to fail somehow
You'll never break me
You've only made me into who I am now
Who am I now
Just blame it on me so I can live my life freely
No you've never been so low, and it really shows
You've never been so low
I'm never crawling back
Never crawling back
