

Words Of Hope

For Today

You mean the world to me
Thoughts of you not being here with me
You're giving up without looking for a way out
Walk towards the light
Stop this timebomb on yourself
There is more to this world than you could ever imagine
A love so pure, wanting to lift you up
To bring your head out of the sand
& carry you on the path to righteousness
A love so pure
Fixes broken hearts, broken lives
This gift delivered by our God
These words of hope are yours to take
You may be fearful but you are not alone
I will be there to help you through
Are you up for the challenge?
Believe in yourself
Know that these words
These words of hope
Are yours to take
