

Big Pig Nobility

Forrest Jump

Every time I'm affraid of speach smacked like salty tea
Of smarmy faces smarmy smiles and smarmy lies told to me
It suffocate my thoughts but I'm not tryin to hide They've made a beggar of the truth and now they spit slight by slight
Without any remorse they lie through my teeth
I know you know we know they know no one can breathe
I may die but I know the reason why my wings bleed
It's brassy doctors brassy butchers brassy words made from gree d

Their eyes say please don't fight
There's no way to escape
And my hits answer them
That I can't only gape

Their eyes ...

During days full of tears they build up fair fame
In the morning in the evening no one's to blame
With shade of cruel in the voice they wear the numb uniforme
Working hard ??? and inside me they can make a storm
Liers but their impunity makes my days gray
They long for having power and they have power to slay
To be dependent on their will it's insanity
I feel like slave of them like slave of big pig nobility

Don't trust them

I may ...

To be dependent on ...

Don't trust them!
