

Young Hearts

Four Letter Lie

I've been away for far too long.
Maybe you're right...maybe it's me, breathing down my neck.
A man of few words. I've got to find me something worth fighting for.

Do you take me for some kind of fool?
With everything I've ever done, I'd give it all for one more day.
Young heart will take it and young heart will make it.
Sinking to the bottom won't escape your demons.

All the years put in the fight to say heaven's not coming.
I'm alive and you're alive, shouldn't that be enough?
Yeah, she says the words, but the only thing that makes sense is you're not coming home.

Do you take me for some kind of fool?
With everything I've ever done, I'd give it all for one more day.
Young heart will take it and young heart will make it.
Sinking to the bottom won't escape your demons.

Everything around me is falling to pieces
as you climb inside my body to open the wound.
I can't accept it. We tried this your way.
Speak up. Some say what's lost is never found.
