

What the Hell Is a Gigawatt?

Four Year Strong

Today's the day that we start this war
Make up your mind and decide what you are fighting for
You still have so much left to learn about
The decisions you make, be it so hard to break
If you can't make room for raising the stakes
You'll find yourself exposed to the fallout
And in a drawn-out series of undeniable mistakes
The perfect punch to a perfect line

I'm not gonna make it,
Tonight's not good for me, it's true
But not for the reasons you might think,
'Cause I've got better things to do

Well have you ever loved so much that you'd kill for it?
(I'd kill for this)
From the bottom of the barrel to the tip of my tongue
(Feeling old but we're still so young)
Because we are the ones that you're searching for (We're causing all the trouble, only looking for more)
Does someone carry on with a heart of gold?
Feeling young but we're getting older every time I turn around
(The perfect place at the perfect time)

I'm not gonna make it,
Tonight's not good for me, it's true
But not for the reasons you might think,
'Cause I've got better things to do

I'm not gonna make it,
Tonight's not good for me, it's true
But not for the reasons you might think,
'Cause I've got better things

(This is an outrage)
Today's the day that we start this war
(This is an outrage)
Make up your mind and decide
(This is an outrage)
This is an outrage, I'm so disgusted
(This is an outrage)
Take a look, we swear it's running out
Why can't you see

So listen up, if you still feel like I still feel
Then rise up, it's so far gone

I'm not gonna make it,
Tonight's not good for me, it's true
But not for the reasons you might think,
'Cause I've got better things to do
