

Upon a Hill

Foxygen

I sit upon a hill
And through the windowsill, she slowly sings a song for me
And in her eyes, hands me my disguise
And served upon a plate, my heart will slowly rot and die and j ust be [?]
And if I ever see the sun, free for everyone
Not just for me (Not just for me)

Someday I'm gonna sit myself right down that hillside there and see

And if our love shall die
Threw our souls up in the sky and candelabra in the sea
Sing a song for me
You wanna be so fine
And just be speaking with our minds
And just be laughing at the trees
And if you see me, give a sign
And just sing a song for me
Oh, the hills roll down and the silence
Every living creature's sound
Wild flamingos dance on spaceships with black fire in the mouth
Sing a song for me

If you see it then just sing a song for me
If you see it then just sing a song for me
If you see it then just sing a song for me
