God Pounds His Nails

Well I wonder bout the hunger That I've felt inside Forced changes causing longing I gave my will to survive

Don't wait for tomorrow Make it today You'll never find a better time to lean on your faith So drop to your knees Before it's too late And reach up to the sky

Hey Hey Hey Like a thunderbolt from Heaven Swinging that hammer You know that God He pounds his nails

One...Two...Three When that drum beats up in Heaven Swinging that Hammer You know that God He pounds his nails

Seven wishes unchained madness Paid the price for a dream Fates warning Forever thinking God decides sight unseen

Don't wait for tomorrow Make it today You'll never find a better time to lean on your faith So drop to your knees Before it's too late And reach up to the sky

Hey Hey Hey Like a thunderbolt from Heaven Swinging that hammer You know that God He pounds his nails

One...Two...Three When that drum beats up in Heaven Swinging that Hammer You know that God He pounds his nails

Then I stop and look and die And never have to wonder why I'm screaming but I remember that God pounds his nails.
