

Shine Forever

Fozzy

I never knew who I was until I was standing on the edge
I never felt so empty and alone, my memories my only friend
Dreams about the past and what is meant to be Silent as the sun goes down, I pray the night will set me free

My time's born at sunrise
My shadows become shade
I will shine forever
Even though the dark comes to take me away

My pulse pounding blood enraged
What is this I have done?
The finish line within my grasp
I'm not the only one

Seconds, minutes, hours turn to days
So much time I let slip away
Silence as the sun goes down
And pray it comes back up again

My time's born at sunrise
My shadows become shade
I will shine forever
Even though the dark comes to take me away

Love can be your enemy
Or an angel from above
A blackened beast that you can't see
Or a soaring snow white dove

Love can be your enemy
Or an angel from above
A blackened beast that you can't see
Or a soaring snow white dove

My time's born at sunrise
My shadows become shade
I will shine forever
Even though the dark comes to take me away
