Frank Black

Someday I know that you'll be coming back here Will you someday? I wait to hear you turn that knob on that door I can't take it no more Boston to Phoenix I went in my car But I don't know how you went so far I've been to Cairo I've seen the bazaar But I don't know how you went so far One day I know that you will come to your senses Will you one day? It's too late for me to leave and be with you there I would be scared I sailed the Atlantic And I looked at the stars But I don't know how you went so far No I don't know how you went so far I don't know how you went so far
