Places Named After Numbers

Frank Black

Beyond below above A gravity that slumbers At the center of Places named after numbers Different kind of love She was right She was right there She was right there all the time Collapsing all the way And though it seems from here That she was never there Light beams disappear Into her blackened hair I wonder if they reappear She was right She was right there She was right there all the time Collapsing all the way