Silent Key

Frank Turner

On the 28th of January 1986 Christa McAuliffe Gazed in horror as the O-rings failed, And she died, and she died.

For the next agonising two minutes and forty-five long seconds She called out the truth on a broken radio: "I'm alive, I'm alive".

It came as some surprise to realise that
As she lost everything
The world was revealed in a transmission so real
That she understood everything:
You're still alive.

Four thousand nautical miles as the crow flies away A home-made ham radio in the loft of a Hampshire family home Came alive, came alive, came alive.

And so the four year old amateur operator thus became The only person to hear Christa's last desperate communique: "We're alive, we're alive, we're alive".

It came as some surprise to realise
While he didn't catch everything,
The world was revealed in a transmission so real
That he understood everything:
You're still alive.

And Christa said:

"The darkness up above Led me on like unrequited love, While all the things I need Were down here in the deep blue sea."

At four years old I heard the truth on my radio, So now I keep a moment's silence for my Silent Key.
