

A Very Nice Body

Frank Zappa

Louis: Yes . . .

Roy: I kind of miss him

Louis: Yeah, me too

Roy: Getting on top of him and all

Louis: He had a very nice body too

Roy: Yeah, even though he was a, a . . . Oh well

Louis: A dual personality, you know

Roy: Yeah

Louis: We have to think of what he's doin' out there?

Roy: What did he go out there for anyway?

Louis: Maybe . . .

Roy: Maybe he wanted to get on top of one of those horse . . .
ponies

Louis: Yes, maybe he wants to have intercourse with them!

Roy: What?

Louis: Intercourse!

Roy: Well, if he doesn't get clawed first

Louis: Yes, that's right. But, maybe, maybe he will find a real nice, a very nice kind horse, you know

Roy: A horse, yeah horse. Whore-sss

Louis: Boogey-man or something. Something out there. You might find a nice kind . . .

Roy: Boogey-man?

Louis: Well, something, you know. I don't know what it is myself - a horse - 'cause human beings, decent human beings. Nice place to live

Roy: Beans? You call them human beans?

Louis: And then before they turn to be boogey-men or . . .

Roy: That's why they came into the Steinway

Louis: Yes, that's why 'cause I just couldn't take them anymore, you know. They were vicious, too vicious. So I had to go, I had to, I had to come in here

Spider: Like, we can't understand what they're saying to each other

John: I know
