Lonely Little Girl

Frank Zappa

You're a lonely little girl
But your mommy and your daddy don't care
You're a lonely little girl
The things they say just hurt your heart
It's too late now for them to start
To understand the way you feel
The world for them is too unreal
So you're lonely lonely lonely
Lonely little girl...

All your children
Are poor, unfortunate victims
Of systems beyond their control
A plague upon your ignorance
And the gray despair of your ugly life