

Your Boy

Frankmusik

"I thought I should reply"
That's what you said
"And the parts of me are always with you"
That's why it was so hard to forget

And when we spoke on hazy nights
So many months ago
You said you will always worry
But you had to let me go, go

Sorry I'm trying to change my past
Can you give me just one more minute?
How I've lost the time
But I always seem to put you in it

However hard it was sometimes
You seem to know the words and hum the lines
To songs that make your heart so sore
Maybe I should write one more

When you won't just bring me back one time
To hide so many truths
Then run from me and back to him
And leave me like this fool

A fraud of love, that's all you were
For you are an emptiness
A person who seems to be void
P.S. Your boy

I thought I should reply
So hear these words I say
I know I will always worry when
You so easily let me stray
