

Twilight Omens

Franz Ferdinand

I wrote your name upon the back of my hands
Slept upon it and I woke up with it
Backwards on my face
Reading forwards to my mirror to my heart

Twilight omens in my life
Then I hear your name
Hear the way you sing your name
Should I give you a call, what can I say?
Maybe, you still feel the same

I typed your number into my calculator
Where it's spelled as your word
When you turn it upside down
You can turn my dirty world the bright way 'round

Twilight omens in my life
Then I hear your name
Hear the way you sing your name
Should give you a call, what can I say?
Oh, maybe I still feel the same

Twilight omens in my life
I keep hearing your name
I keep hearing your name
Keep hearing your name

I hear the radio sing your name
Hear the radio sing your name
Hear the radio sing your name
