

Fast Moving Train

Fredrika Stahl

What is different, what is news
We're on a carousel spinning through deja-vu
What remains and for what reason
We see pastures change but to familiar seasons

All over again, all over again
We're stuck in a pattern, an endless refrain
All over again, all over again
We're trap in a loop on a fast moving train

How many songs, how many poems
'Til we turn away from illusionary omens
How many spins, how many springs
Before common sense finally win

All over again, all over again
We're stuck in a pattern, an endless refrain
All over again, all over again
We're trap in a loop on a fast moving train

All over again, all over again
We're stuck in a pattern, an endless refrain
All over again, all over again
We're trap in a loop on a fast moving train

All over again, all over again
We're stuck in a pattern, an endless refrain
All over again, all over again
We're trap in a loop on a fast moving train
