

Out of the Ruins

Freedom Call

Noone's got the power to defy the tyranny
One by one they all were gone
Far too many heroes came and went but never won
Everyone has lost his soul forever

They've opened a door
And whispered the spell that was written in stone
They've broken the seal
Their word wasn't spoken, since 2.000 years

All heroes lost, the kingdom's gone
I feel the end, it must be done
Courageous I'm standing tall

Out of the ruins we rise forever
Into the battle - we march together
We are the ones, never lost our faith and our pride
Out of the ruins we rise forever
Into the battle we march together
It's written in stone, a new king will be born

And out of the shades
A creature is rising to engage the throne
The light disappeared
A warrior is screaming while fighting the demon

I feel the end, down on my knees
I pray to god, give me the will to carry on
I hear them come, the battle's near
I gonna die, is it all real or fantasy
Is it all real or fantasy?

We're a legion of defenders
Brave at heart and strong
And the flame of hope is with us
We will carry on
