Acts of Man

Frightened Rabbit

I am that dickhead in the kitchen Giving wine to your best girl's glass I am the amateur pornographer Unpleasant publisher by hand

Not here, not here, heroic acts of man Not here, not here, heroic acts of man

I see the stumbling pinstriped trouser Flecks of sick on an office shoe Part of the fatty British average Who lives in the houses around you

Let's all crowd 'round the cowering body Throw stocky fingers, bricks and stones Let's promise every girl we marry We'll always love them when we probably won't

While the knight in shitty armour Rips the drunk out of her dress One man tears into another Hides a coward's heart in a lion's chest

Man, he breeds although he shouldn't He's breeding just because he comes Acts the father for a minute Till the worst instincts return

I have never wanted more, to be your man And build a house around you I am just like all the rest of them Sorry, selfish, trying to improve

I'm here, I'm here, not heroic but I try I'm here, I'm here, not heroic but I try
