

Nothing Like You

Frightened Rabbit

This is a story and you are not in it uh uh
Fought the pages torn out
Here is a bedroom that you've never been in Here is your shovel
There's the ground

Look two lovers covered in covers uh uh
I can put us to bed tonight
I am bruised but she is dressing the wounds
Night nursing a broken man

She was not the cure for cancer
Aand all my questions still ask for answers
There is nothing like someone new
And this girl she was nothing like you oh oh

Up awake and I'm post operation
I find I've come in a dream again
All the pain almost as painful as ever but Something in me was not the same

At night you're in dreams of submission
I could claw back my heart and soul
As the size of this tumour diminishes

so we fill that black hole

She was not the cure for cancer
And all my questions still ask for answers
There is nothing like someone new
And this girl she was nothing like you whoa
(repeat)