

Autumns Monologue

From Autumn To Ashes

Oh why can't I be what you need?
A newer improved version of me
But I'm nothing so good no, I'm nothing Just bones, a lonely ghost burning down songs of violence of love and of sorrow I beg for just one more tomorrow where you hold me down, fold me in deep, deep, deep in the heart of your sins

I break in two over you, oh
I break in two
And each piece of me dies
And only you can give the breath of life
But you don't see me, you don't

Here I'm pinned between darkness and light Bleached and blinded by these nights where I'm tossing and tortured 'til dawn by you, visions of you then you're gone.
The shock bleeds the red from my face when I hear someone's taking my place.
How could love be so thoughtless, so cruel?
When all, all that I did was for you

I break in two over you, oh
I break in two
and each piece of me dies
and only you can give the breath of life
(x2)

I break in two over you, oh
I break in two over you, over you
I break in two
I would break in two for you
Now you see me
Now you don't
Now you need me
Now you don't
