

Words

From Dawn To Fall

I didn't mean for that to happen was it really all my fault? looking for the termination my heart it died and it got cold it really wasn't my intention to hurt you all along looking for a confirmation I kill you only with my tongue as a matter of facts

Words mean more than every action they can heal or cure a man
As I rise all of my self reflection I wanna be a better friend better than this

I'll convince myself to apologise for doing this to you, blaming you for being honest I am hardly moving despite the fact that I keep breathing it was spoken out and I can't take it back I'm drifting away

Words mean more than every action
they can heal or cure a man
As I rise all of my self reflection
I wanna be a better friend
better than this
a better friend than this oh

I won't look back
I won't forget the things you said they hurt me so I won't look back
I won't regret everything oh everything I said I won't look back
anymore
anymore
anymore
