

'Till I Can Walk

From Indian Lakes

Over the water I hear only traces of things to come
And things that were never there at all
I saw the lights reflecting
I've heard the horns approaching the shore

And over my head I stare into darkness
And when I wake I still see nothing at all
I saw the waves were breaking
I heard the voice is speaking before

My lover wasn't waking I walk alone
Till I can walk no more

And where is my place I have suddenly decided
My life is important, my love not so much
I meant to be lovely,
I wanted to make the world proud

When no one is lovely
I'll make sure that I am around

(Chorus) x2
Where is my happy song
And where has my patience gone
Did they take it away
Or did I make it leave on my own

Love never takes but I've seen it take everything
There's no one around when I need them the most
Until your love takes down the way
Please restart my ability to love again

(Chorus)
Where is my happy song
And where has my patience gone
Did they take it away
Or did I make it leave on my own
