

Watch Your Back

From Our Hands

The stars keep shining
Bright through the night
Simple human being, just a part of a crowd
If you're up to something, they will let you down
Only chance to differ is to make a sound
But the stars keep shining
Bright through the night
You should have to, have to try
If you got the chance to live
Keep this always on your mind
If you have the dream to reach
If you're up to something, they will let you down
Only chance to differ is to make a sound
But the stars keep shining
If times are getting hard

Woooohoooo woaaaaahooo
You'd better watch your back if fortunes fading
Wooohoo wooahoo
Scream for resurrection
I can see you falling
On your knees you're crawling
Begging for gods mercy after all

The stars keep shining
And people are passing by
Day to day such a big waste, big waste of time
No one's helping, no one seems to care
If you're just a piece, simply standing there
No one's helping
If times are getting hard

Dust and ignoration,
Is falling down, like the leafs fall on November
Your head is full of questions,
Speak inside, no one gives you answer
