

Tomorrow's Light

From Zero

On my quest to find tomorrow, can you catch me to tame the ride

I'm not fair about tomorrow, then you forfeit your own hand..

I see the light, I trail the light, I know the light

Can you will the right, as you place the time?

And you rules are blind, as you force me to loathe it...

I'm not wild about tomorrow, I just live for a moments time

Got this place inside tomorrow

I can't get there you know it

I see the light, I trail the light, I know the light

Can you will the right, as you place the time?

And you rules are blind, as you force me to loathe it...

What's your case, what's your fuckin deal?

Oh, I'm not a member of society?

Ripping face as you grip your stay

It's not avenging enough to try

Watch the gates as I spin my wheels

Ooh, I'm in a hot rod going straight to hell

What's the price, should I try to steal?

And will I ever even get to fly?

It doesn't matter to me

I don't care about you

There's nothing I'd rather see than watch you fail in life

You know it matters to me

What I think about in you

There's something I strive to be

I see it passing by

On my quest to find tomorrow

I'll be passing the roads of life

I'm not scared to beg or borrow

Cause I know that I'll be there
