Standing so tall / The ground behind No trespassers / On every floor A garden swing / And another door She makes it clear / That everything is hers

A place of abode Not far from here Ms. Van de Veer

All that belongs to / No-one sees Curtains that waver / When evening falls Inclosed by fences / Smothered by wood Who stands behind / The shadows of the trees

Standing so tall / But no-one sees
No trespassers / When evening falls
A garden swing / Smothered by wood
She makes it clear / The shadows of the trees
