

Rut Away

Front Porch Step

I know you left me long ago
But I've been longing since you left
To fill this empty space that you created
On this lonely bed.
And I know it's not my fault
But I'm the one that's getting hurt.
You sit upon your whorish throne
While I drown in shit I don't deserve.

You left your t-shirt in my room.
It used to smell like your perfume.
I choked up when it was burning
But I blamed it on the fumes.
And my pulse goes off the charts
When I see you on the street
You know you ripped my life apart
But you won't get the best of me.

So I will run away
And get out of this town
In hope I never see your face.
And I'll take back my heart
And rid my life of you
So that my life can finally start.

And I'm so done with feeling numb
That I've been pissing in the breeze.
No matter how much these girls come
They never miss their chance to leave.
And I swear you rule my mind
But I wish you never left.
And now I miss you all the time
And I just eat myself to death.

You left your t-shirt in my room.
It used to smell like your perfume.
I choked up when it was burning
But I blamed it on the fumes.
And now I'll run so far away.
Maybe I'll run until I die.
Well if my journey ends with that
At least we'll both be satisfied.

So I will run away
And get out of this town
In hope I never see your face.
And I'll take back my heart
And rid my life of you
So that my life can finally start.

I saw the beauty in your oaks.
I ate the apple from your tree.
I thought I had you for myself.
How many shared your fruit with me?

I saw the beauty in your oaks.
I ate the apple from your tree.

I thought I had you for myself.
How many shared your fruit with me?