

Enslaved Hope

Frown

They are all here as one
Looking for something
Like the raindrops from the trees
Slowly subsiding, like the raindrops from the trees

Rain but not like then
They are all, they are all as one
Looking for something
Like the raindrops from the trees

That cold evening it's like a death
Whispering, fall asleep
That cold evening it's like a death
Whispering, fall asleep

Naive, naive

I naively wait, naively hope
When hope subsides from me
I'm turning letters of the past
They're all as one coming like a nightmare

That cold evening, it's like a death
Whispering, fall asleep
Rain but not like then
They are all as one

Enslaved hope
Enslaved hope

I naively wait, naively hope
When hope subsides from me
Burning letters of the past
They're all as one coming like a nightmare

Rain, rain, rain, rain
