Misty Rains Are Comin`

In the middle of frost The winter's started Her breath the trees undressed Made pale of sticks The limbo's started I'm sitting by fire And I am wet

It's drizzling all the weeks I guess it won't stop Tranquil murmur of the wind crawling into my ears

Wood is wet -wet to the pith O' god's disgrace Bright blue flames Like a night sky Far away-miles away In the distant nothingness I'm feeding the fire I think it won't go out

I am sitting By hearth I am wet By hearth Frown
