

Again

Fuel

I guess the lies called your name again
The black you keep inside
Reared its ugly head again
I wash my hands this time

If I never see your face again
Hope it eats you up inside
If I never feel this place again
At least I'll feel my pride, oh

Apologies only now condemn
Honesty slips by
Bitter now and you were bitter then
Darkness is your guide

If I never see your face again
Hope it eats you up inside
If I never feel this place again
At least I'll feel my pride

On you face is that old forgive me smile
For an inch all I know is you'll take that mile
On your tongue you can't hold is another lie
Tryin to get into my head

If I never see your face again
Hope it eats you up inside
If I never feel this place again
At least I'll feel my pride

Yeah
