Take me out alive Take me out it's all so stale Give me another life Excuse me if I tried and failed And I don't mind if I fall It's not that far at all I got a new thing, it's so inspired It's not the real thing, but it's for me Because the real thing I don't desire So it's the new thing I choose for me Denial comfort me Built the gallows high You gave me plans and silver nails The architects of pride But I'm the one you're hanging now And I don't mind if I fall It's not that far at all And I don't mind if I fall It's not that far at all R

Mary Pretends

Mary pretends she's so insane, so insane, so insane
Mary pretends she's so insane, so insane, so insane
She just sits back and laughs at the pain
Laughs at the pain, laughs at the pain
Mary pretends she's so insane, so insane, so insane
Falling down of her mind
Gives her everything she's wanted from the world
Close her eyes, drift inside, so alive
She wants to know what it feels like
She wants to know what it feels like to fly
She wants to know what it feels like to die
Good-bye
