

You've Got a Bad Case of the Religions

Funeral for a Friend

An equal opportunist lever
A fair deal with maybe more to offer
But there is just a little piece of bullshit
That I can't work through
And I can relate to what you're going through
I'm going through the same old shit that we go through
Yes, we all go through

And it's never been anything else

So get on your knees and pray
Because you say I'm fucking laughing at you
Living life in chapter and verse
Some days it feels more like a curse
So I'd rather live my life

Well I concern myself about losing my hair
About losing my teeth and everything
And not a inch of self respect
That I will never meet again
And I'm happy
So happy
I don't believe in anything
The fakeness that you choose to live your life by

It means nothing to me

So get on your knees and pray
Because you say I'm fucking laughing at you
Living life in chapter and verse
Some days it feels more like a curse
So I'd rather live my life

And I'm not afraid of your doctrines
Religious persecution in the name of a "fake"
And I don't believe
And I won't believe
And I don't believe
Why, never believed in anything.

So get on your knees and prey
Because it seems I'm fucking laughing at you
Living life in chapter and verse
Some days it feels more like a curse

You lived your life in chapter and verse
Some days it feels more like a curse

But I'd rather live my life
