

A New Beginning

Funker Vogt

can see the city lights
When I turn my head
A lake reflects the stars
But I won't come back

The moon shines bright tonight
I can see the coast
Lighted ships right at anchor
Waiting for the head

Deep inside I'm still a child
A tear drops down and you will frown
A new beginning, maybe an end or is it something in between.

All the friends I ever had
I will never see again.
My old life fades away
Like a teardrop in the ocean.

Deep inside I'm still a child
A tear drops down and you will frown
A new beginning, maybe an end
or is it something in between.

Don't turn back follow the light
Go your way into a new day

I'm on the road again
Don't know where to go
Without a name I search my fate
Down there in the darkness.
