Cold War

Funker Vogt

somewher down in mother Russia they make plans to take the world thousands of veiled secrets hidden deep inside their rooms with all their special agents trying to fool each other each side wants to be the smartest in this abnormal war but you always have to hear both sides of the story it isn't just one country which we have to blame

I can go on with these stories until the last one is bored but ignorance and stupidity will survive forever

chrous:

spy versus spy
is the name of the game
whe we are all left
there is no one to blame
getting the power
is the aim of the game
lying to each other
all for the fame
