

Hold My Ground

Funker Vogt

The years pass by
My life is fine
The past lies buried
Deep in my soul

What there was
And has been
Has been forgotten
For a while

There is nothing that I can do
There is nothing that I can say
But I will try to hold my ground
At least for another day

And too late again I noticed
The world around me starts to spin
Suddenly it starts all over
Another fight I could not win

Forgotten memories
From my past
Are coming back
With full force

Here I'm standing
Close to the edge
Starring at my
Event horizon

There is nothing that I can do
There is nothing that I can say
But I will try to hold my ground
At least for another day

And too late again I noticed
The world around me starts to spin
Suddenly it starts all over
Another fight I could not win
