

Horizon

Funker Vogt

I wandered around for twenty-five years and still haven't found what I am searching for

I watched them all
passing my way
I saw the falling
and getting up again

people get married
and divorced in time
some try to disregard
what happened to them

I see my horizon
a blue sky appears
I will go my way
into a bright future

chorus:
so please tell me what this is all about this md world we are living in a horizon always covered by a cloud where does it end where does it begin
