

Staring Down the Sun

Further Seems Forever

Would that I could
But I cannot go on living like this
There's no change in your heart
When there's no mistaking this for a new start
Just the same shock fading arrow focus in the four ground
While the world keeps spinning all around us in the background

Almost holding on

Now we'll spin till I'm spun out
I'm staring down the sun still I'm stared out
All I ever wanted was your love
These days run through each other
Just the thought of you alone makes me suffer
And all I ever really wanted was
All I ever wanted was your love

Love like a shot just fired in the air
Without much thoughts or accounts
Over who is gonna harm when it comes back down ,for us
It has always been a little dangerous ,for us
There has always been a little danger

We keep on holding on

Now we'll spin till I'm spun out
I'm staring down the sun still I'm stared out
All I ever wanted was your love
These days won through each other
Just the thought of you alone makes me suffer
And all I ever really wanted

Would that I could
But I can't escape your love
Would that I could
But I can't escape your love
Would that I could
But I cannot have your love
Would that I could

Now we'll spin till I'm spun out
I'm staring down the sun still I'm stared out
All I ever wanted was your love
These days run through each other
Just the thought of you alone makes me suffer
And all I ever really wanted was
All I ever really wanted was your love
