

Death Opened A Boutique

Future Bible Heroes

On friday the 13th, death opened a boutique on the champs elysees selling fear and dismay open seven days a week
it was de rieuqur and chic for the wicked and the weak

people came from far and near to buy poison and tears the decor was delectable the service impeccable it was expensive - what isn't? it sold black plague and socialism there was no reason to exist if you weren't on the mailing list
